Practice areas

Shema is a Legal Officer at MRB Attorneys, where he provides legal support across various practice areas. His primary focus lies in corporate and commercial law, commercial transactions, contract drafting and review, company incorporations, intellectual property protection and dispute resolution.

Work experience

Shema has gained professional experience in legal practice, with a focus on advising local and international clients on corporate and commercial matters. As a legal counsel, he assists businesses with contract negotiations, corporate documentation, regulatory compliance, and legal risk management.

He regularly supports clients through the drafting and review of commercial agreements, shareholder and board resolutions, legal opinions, corporate governance documents, and other transactional instruments. Shema also advises clients on company registration, trademark protection, corporate structuring, and legal due diligence processes to ensure effective management of legal and commercial risks.

His experience further extends to dispute resolution, litigation, and arbitration matters, where he supports the preparation of court submissions, legal pleadings, and other litigation documents. He also conducts legal research, manages litigation files, and monitors court proceedings through the Integrated Electronic Case Management System (IECMS).

Through his attention to detail, strong legal research skills, and client-focused approach, Shema provides practical legal solutions that support clients in achieving their commercial objectives while ensuring compliance with applicable laws and regulations.
